ADVOCACY

As the only state organization dedicated solely to EMS, EMSAC serves you—and the EMS system. We speak with a unified voice to advocate the best care for our patients. The Colorado Legislature, the Colorado Dept. of Public Health and Environment, allied organizations such as the Colorado Search and Rescue Board, Colorado State Fire Chiefs and the American College of Emergency Physicians have all heard from EMSAC on many occasions.

Whether it be legislation to protect EMS from assault or improve Medicaid rates, the operation of emergency vehicles, the development of the community paramedics; or the State planning the next ten year's evolution of Colorado EMS, EMSAC offers the critical perspective of those who daily provide, manage and plan for emergency care.

COMMUNICATION

EMSAC's newsletter is considered by many members as the most valuable association service and their reason for joining.

The Star concentrates on Colorado EMS, with articles about new emergency medical procedures and research, updates on changes in state EMS regulations and laws that affect you, as well as opinion pieces about this evolving profession. It offers professionals a place to "sound off" about critical issues in the profession.

Our monthly members updates keep you current with new, useful information about events, trainings and changes in EMS that will affect you at work right away.

EDUCATION

EMSAC was founded to supply continuing education to meet the state required needs of EMTs. We continue today, with the Colorado State EMS Conference. It is the greatest value in EMS conferences in Colorado and rated one of the best in the nation.

EMSAC works with local EMS agencies, councils and RETACs to bring to them seminars and courses difficult to do on a local scale. We produce annual EMS agency managers' university-level training and sponsor specialty educational events with hospitals, allied associations and EMS educators.
